

What drains us and what energizes us?

One Another Commands in the New Testament:

Our tendency can be to assume our personality is _____ to another's, or to judge another's _____ based on their different personality.

1. Our Personalities may be _____, but they are not _____. (1, 4-6)

- Colossians 3:11 -
- 2 Corinthians 5:17 -
- Galatians 2:20 -

2. Our personalities may be _____, but they are not _____. (2)

- _____ - the heart posture that esteems others above oneself
- _____ - a spirit of restraint, tenderness, consideration, and kindness toward others. It is the opposite of harshness
- _____ - the spiritual grace of facing hardship or frustration without losing love or composure
- _____ - enduring the weaknesses and differences of others with Christlike love and without resentment or irritation

3. Our personalities may be _____, but they must not be _____. (3)

"Eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace"

Practical applications:

- _____ where you have used personality as an excuse for withdrawal, inaction, or judgmentalism.
- _____ the habit of pursuing the one another commands in Scripture that may be difficult for your personality type.
- _____ the diversity of personalities in our body.

"Be united with other Christians. A wall with loose bricks is not good. The bricks must be cemented together."
